We deliver the sessions in community venues and we can come to you if you have a group of people who would like some training. (NOTE: currently some of our training is delivered virtually by MS Teams)

An Insight into Menopause

The menopause is a natural part of ageing. In the UK, the average age for a woman to go through menopause is 51. Studies have shown that menopause symptoms can have a significant impact on attendance and performance in the workplace.

With our population now living longer, working longer, and with 3.5 million women over 50 in the workplace, it's vital that staff are supported to stay well and thrive in the workplace.

Menopause is not just a female issue, it's an organisational issue. All managers need to know about it and how they can support their staff. Awareness on this topic is fundamental and reducing the stigma attached to it is vital so that more people will talk openly about it.

This short course gives an overview of the menopause, signs, symptoms, treatment and survival!

Awareness Around Energy Drinks and Caffeine

With the energy drinks market in the UK during 2021 being worth over £761million, and younger people consuming these products, we should be asking ourselves what is going into these products and what are they doing to our bodies. In this three hour session we will look at the difference between energy and sport drinks, find out what is the safe limit for caffeine, sugar and the other ingredients in these products? The impact that caffeine and sugar in our drinks have on our health in both the short and long-term.

A Mindful Approach to Stress Management

What is Pressure? Is it the same as Stress? Do you know how to recognise them and what you can do if you are feeling their effects? If you have asked yourself any of these questions before or are unsure of the answer then this session could be a good place to start. During the session you can explore what they mean to you, how to recognise the warning signs and how to minimise the negative effects associated with stress. You will be introduced to mindfulness, enabling you to start building on your own mindfulness based practises and how to use them to help ease pressure and manage or mitigate stress.

Assertiveness Skills

Assertiveness is the ability to communicate thoughts, feelings and ideas, both positive and negative, in an open and honest way, which does not abuse your rights or the rights of others. Assertiveness is often wrongly confused with aggression. During this 3-hour session delegates will be able to recognise the difference between assertive, passive and aggressive behaviour and identify the tools they can apply to ensure the appropriate assertive communication skills required in different situations. They will acquire practical techniques which will increase their effectiveness and productivity, and help them gain control of daily activities.

Mental Health Awareness for Line Managers

Most adults spend a significant proportion of their waking hours at work, so it is inevitably a setting where problems are often experienced. Line managers and team leaders can play a vital role in reducing stigma and encouraging staff to talk about their mental health problems. They are on the front line of implementing policies and may be the first port of call if someone isn't feeling well or is under pressure. This course focuses on identifying mental health conditions in the workplace, how to develop and support a positive culture and giving you the confidence to engage in mental health conversations.

Suicide Awareness Workshop

Promoting awareness of suicide and reducing stigma is crucial in mitigating suicide risk. This course will create an awareness in responding effectively to people experiencing thoughts of suicide. Often we let the fear of saying the wrong thing stop us from saying anything. This workshop is for people who want to feel more comfortable, confident and competent in having conversations which may help to prevent an immediate risk of suicide. The workshop will provide a safe environment for participants to explore this subject. This workshop is suitable for anyone who might come into contact with someone experiencing thoughts of suicide, for example volunteers, frontline staff and community groups working with the public.

Making Every Contact Count (MECC)

Making every contact count or MECC for short is for those people who may engage in health improvement conversations. These conversations could be with friends, family, colleagues, community members, clients and service users for example and are based in behaviour change practices. During this modular session you will learn the basics of behaviour change and be able to explore wellbeing conversations around a variety of health and wellbeing topics from financial wellbeing to smoking cessation and domestic violence to mental health. Many of us are already having MECC conversations and research shows that these very brief interventions can have a positive impact on individuals and communities alike.

Challenging Mental Health Stigma & Discrimination

This course will explore mental health stigma and identify ways you can challenge stigma in your community or organisation. Mental Health stigma and discrimination prevent people from seeking help: this can delay treatment and impair recovery. It isolates people, excluding them from day-to-day activities and making it hard to build new relationships or sustain current ones. It can stop people getting or keeping jobs. Experiencing a mental health condition is hard enough, without having to deal with the shame and isolation that often comes with it. The aim of this workshop is to develop Champions' skills, knowledge, understanding and confidence to challenge mental health stigma and discrimination.

Not Scheduled This Quarter

Social Contact – Lived MH Experience only

Please note that this session is aimed specifically at those with a lived experience of the negative attitudes surrounding mental health and is a follow up to Challenging Mental Health Stigma & Discrimination.
